of TEXAS

"We're proud to partner with Uplift Education because they understand the importance of infusing a strong math and science curriculum into every child's education so that they will be prepared for success in college and the jobs of tomorrow."

"Providing low-income students with access to high quality education is one of our highest priorities, and Uplift Education has the track record of high academic achievement and high college admittance rates to prove that they are doing just that."

"We have both been passionate about education for many years, and when we walk through the halls of Uplift's schools, we know that we are investing our philanthropy in a place that is making a huge impact on the future of our community." - Todd & Abby Williams

"Uplift's Road to College program is a special interest of the Harold Simmons Foundation because it inspires first generation college attendance and equips students to make their college dream a reality." - Serena Connelly

US News & World Report ranks North Hills Prep among its Top International Baccalaureate schools in America. It is the highest rated Texas school on the list.

"The quality of education in North Texas is not a problem that we can solve in a vacuum. Given that, we're proud to know that each of our cities is setting an example for how local government and private enterprise can work together to advance the education of our region's children." - Mayor Tom Leppert (Dallas), Mayor Dr. Robert Cluck (Arlington), and Mayor Herbert Gears (Irving)

Newsweek rated North Hills Prep the 14th best public high school in America in 2010. It has been in their top 20 best schools since 2006.

14 of Uplift's 15 rated schools were rated Exemplary or Recognized by the Texas Education Agency for the 2009-2010 school year.

100% of Uplift Education's graduating seniors through 2010 have been accepted to a two- or four-year college, including Boston University, Cornell University, Columbia, Loyola, Morehouse, NYU, Pepperdine, Purdue, SMU, TCU, Texas A&M, The University of Texas, OU, USC, Vanderbilt, Carnegie Mellon and the US Air Force Academy.
